Since it is located a little away from the hot spring town, it is a quiet hot spring town. The room was spacious and clean. The staff was attentive, making our stay pleasant.

My stay at the ryokan in the Isawa Onsen area was truly an amazing experience. The room had a calm, traditional Japanese atmosphere, and the outdoor bath was especially wonderful. The tranquility of the surroundings and the warmth of the hot spring healed both my body and mind. The attentive service was also impeccable, and I definitely want to visit again. It was a perfect retreat to enjoy Japanese tradition

Since it's located in a hot spring town, the bath is a very clean hot spring. Within the hot spring town, there is also a bath, and it's a very clean hot spring.

It is a hot spring town within walking distance from Isawa Onsen Station. The town is very quiet, and you can spend a relaxing time.

It is about a 10-minute walk from Isawa Onsen Station. There are various accommodations from large hotels to small inns. There are also foot baths and drinking fountains

Ground-Truth

The Isawa Onsen area is a hot spring destination located in the southern part of Yamanashi Prefecture. The hotel where I stayed also had a natural hot spring on the premises. It is said that this hot spring has the characteristic of making your skin smooth.

We stayed at Ooedo Onsen Monogatari with a baby, a 4-year-old child, and four adults. The bath was so nice that we wanted to go in many times, and it made our skin smooth
